I did it!! I finally finished cleaning out my closet and shed after being sick and not being able to clean them for three days. I finally managed to make my way up to my closet and take down about 90% of my clothes. I'm still on a mission to go through the rest of the clothes, and it will probably take me another week or two to get through everything. I'm hoping that I'll have enough room to move in again soon! As far as my outfit for the day goes, I opted for a floral dress with a crop top from Old Navy. It's really comfy, and I'm in love with this dress! I also have a pair of jean shorts from Old Navy, and a pair of sandals that I had bought a few years ago. I don't think I'll be wearing sandals much, though. I need something cute and comfy!
